

Investing in Young People's Health

Esplanade Hotel, Fremantle, Perth, WA,
Australia Nov 13 – 15, 2013

Research with Young People Afternoon Workshop

CHAIR

Jonathan Carapetis,

Director, Telethon Institute for Child Health Research

With

Cathy Vaughan

Centre for Women's Health, Gender & Society, University of Melbourne

Glenn Pearson

Aboriginal Health Research, Telethon Institute for Child Health Research

George Patton

Centre for Adolescent Health, University of Melbourne

Peter Azzopardi

Centre for Adolescent Health, South Australian Health & Medical Research Institute

This workshop will focus on research with young people, and is intended to be interactive and have a practical/ skills-building focus. We are also hoping to involve young people in the workshop.

This workshop will consider:

Why researching young people is important.

Discuss how research can inform policy and practice to improve the health of young people

What research methodologies are successful with young people.

Share examples of qualitative and quantitative research methods that have worked with young people in a variety of settings. We will also consider methodologies to keep young people engaged in research, particularly in longitudinal research studies.

How to equitably engage young people in research

Consider how to ensure our research is relevant to young people, and how can we best disseminate findings.